BARRYMORE SUES COPS FOR ARREST

Case involves pool death of Harlow man in 2001

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

FORMER TV presenter Michael Barrymore is suing Essex Police for wrongful arrest over the death of a Harlow man, whose body was found in the star's swimming pool 14 years ago.

The former Strike It Lucky host was arrested seven years after the death of father-of-two Stuart Lubbock at Mr Barrymore's luxury home in Beaumont Park Road, Roydon, in March 2001.

According to forensic reports, Mr Lubbock had been violently sexually assaulted and police launched a murder investigation.

The 31-year-old, of Great Brays, had met Mr Barrymore at a nightclub in Harlow earlier that evening and went back to his house for a party.

Assault

A post-mortem examination revealed Mr Lubbock, 31, of Great Brays, had suffered serious internal injuries suggestive of sexual assault. Traces of ecstasy, cocaine and alcohol were also found in his bloodstream.

A coroner later recorded an open verdict at his inquest, but the scandal effectively ended Mr Barrymore's career in showbusiness.

At one time he was said to be the highest paid entertainer on British TV. Mr Barrymore – whose real name is Michael Parker – and three other people were arrested on suspicion of murder and sexual assault in 2008, but all were later released without charge.

No-one has ever been convicted of an offence related to Mr Lubbock's death, but Mr Barrymore is now seeking damages from the police, claiming they harmed his reputation and effectively ended his lucrative showbiz career.

In 2002 ITV failed to renew the entertainer's £2million a year contract. He moved to New Zealand, filed for bankruptcy after a £1million-plus tax demand, and later tried to resurrect his career in Britain by appearing in Celebrity Big

Reopening of Town Park zoo is still a month away

POPULAR children's attraction Pets' Corner is unlikely to open this month – but its multi-million pound refurbishment is still anticipated to be revealed later this summer.

The petting zoo is being refurbished as part of a £2.8m project to redevelop Harlow Town Park.

The frame and roof of the new events barn, which will host events such as sheep shearing and live talks, have been erected.

The animal enclosures to the left of what was the main entrance are being redecorated, with their wooden fascias being renewed.

At the end of the concourse, the gate which currently leads through to the Spurriers House car park is to be transformed into a new main entrance and reception area which will feature a new gift shop. A secondary entrance will be situated near to the aquarium building.

Replaced

The ramp leading up from the new main entrance is also being replaced with a wider one with a much gentler gradient to make it easier for pushchair and wheelchair users.

Within the main courtyard area of Pets' Corner, extensive work is under way to install a new drainage system and pathways. The free-roaming poultry birds that lived in this area will continue to do so.

The biggest new addition will be the new learning centre, which will be found to the rear of Pets' Corner opposite the bandstand. The foundations for this building are now being laid and the finished article will feature both indoor and outdoor learning spaces for school classes.

Campaign falls short of £30k funding target

Theatre supporters want to replace Victoria Hall's seating

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DISAPPOINTED theatre company is still fundraising for much-needed new seating after an internet campaign fell short of its target.

Volunteers and staff at Old Harlow's Victoria Hall theatre hoped to raise the £30,000 to replace all 120 aging seats install new wheelchair friendly access in the auditorium by June 22.

However, after two months of appealing through online fundraising platform Indiegogo, Victoria Hall were only able to secure £3,680.

Donations

Theatre chairman Martin Colton said: "Through the website we raised £1,680 and we also had £2,000 of donations come to us directly.

"We have a long way to go, but we are continuing to take money and now have pushed back the goal until the end of the year."

FLASHBACK: Volunteers and staff at the Victoria Hall during the launch of the online fundraising campaign

Mr Colton said the theatre are now thinking of other ways of raising the money and could hold a charity night in September and appeal directly to businesses.

"It did not go as we hoped and we expected more people to get behind it," added Mr Colton. "The 120 seats have been there for 20 years and they are falling apart, they are nowhere near the standard of comfort that any patron would expect.

"Over the years we have re-upholstered and repaired the chairs as best we can, but sadly they have now surpassed any state of repair."

Through the Indiegogo appeal Victoria Hall had offered a range of privileges to anyone who donated, ranging from a heartfelt thanks to anyone who pledged £20 to a personalised name plaque for those who donated £250. Victoria Hall will continue to offer the privileges for anyone who donates.

While the theatre is the venue for many performances throughout the year, most of the ticket revenue goes to the performance group rather than the theatre itself.

Mr Colton said: "People who would still like to donate can get in touch by contacting the theatre."

Barrymore sues police force over 'wrongful arrest' in Lubbock case

Brother in 2006.

Since then he has largely disappeared from TV, turning up only a few times on obscure shows, before featuring in an hour-long Jeremy Kyle Show special on ITV in June 2014 when he insisted he had been "clean" of alcohol and drugs for three years.

Odd-job

He was working in a garden centre and doing odd-job building work near his home in Essex.

When quizzed on the show about whether he felt some responsibility for Mr Lubbock's death, Mr Barrymore said: "I feel responsible for inviting people back to my house that night and I shouldn't have done. I didn't know who they were.

"I know [Mr Lubbock's] dad is again very angry and upset and wants answers, of course he does. But whatever has happened to me, never forget the most important thing is them losing their loved one.

"The death of Stuart, that goes above everything. I've just lost a career, and if that's the price to pay then fine."

When Mr Kyle suggested to the entertainer that he had been vilified more than most, Mr Barrymore replied: "I think I gave them [the press] a lot on a plate, when I should have gone for the second thought instead of the first thought.

"I'm not a monster. I don't deserve to have had done to me what I've had done, but it's happened, so I just get on with my life."

This week the 63-year-old lodged a writ with the High Court claiming the wrongful arrest ruined his lucrative TV career.

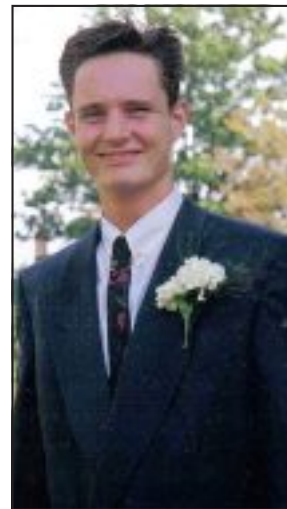

Disgusted

Mr Lubbock's 70-year-old father Terry, who is now living in a care home in Harlow, said he was "totally disgusted" by the latest development and vowed his campaign would continue.

"I will never give up fighting for justice for my son," he said.

Essex Police said it could not comment while civil proceedings were ongoing.

Harlow victim of July 7 bombings remembered

48-year-old woman was among 52 killed on day of terror

Ken Morley

star@hertsexnews.co.uk

A WOMAN from Old Harlow who was one of the victims of the 7/7 bombings in London was remembered at a service in St Paul's Cathedral on Tuesday – the tenth anniversary of the terrorist attacks.

Fifty-two people, including 48-year-old Anne Moffat, died when four suicide bombers detonated explosive devices aboard three London Underground trains and a bus in a co-ordinated attack during the morning rush hour. Hundreds of other people were injured.

Ms Moffat, 48, was head of marketing and communications for Girlguiding UK.

Exploded

She was travelling to work from her home in Old Harlow to Victoria when she was one of seven people killed when the first device exploded on board a train between Liverpool Street and Aldgate stations.

It is believed she was standing in the middle of the carriage, between both sets of doors and close to the bomber, when it went off.

Within the space of a minute, two other bombs had exploded on trains. An hour later a fourth bomb was detonated on the top deck of a bus.

In a statement read out during the inquests held in October 2010, Ms Moffat's brother Chris described his sister, who was born on Christmas Day, as "a Christmas gift to all who knew her".

"You never really appreciate the light emitted by a candle in a darkened room until the candle is extinguished," he said.

"This sums up Anne, as she shed so much light on so many other people's lives.

"Everyone who ever knew Anne respected her qualities of honesty and integrity," said Mr Moffat. "She would always put others ahead of herself, showing her caring and giving nature."

The inquest heard that Ms Moffat had studied art in Hull before moving to London, but returned to the family home in Old Harlow in 1996 to look after her ailing mother.

After it was confirmed that Ms Moffat was one of the victims, Girlguiding UK expressed its "deepest sadness" at her death.

"Anne had worked for Girlguiding UK for over 20 years and had touched many people's lives," said a spokesman. "A truly special person who was talented, warm and gracious, she will be truly missed."

The Duke of York, Prime Minister David Cameron and London mayor Boris Johnson were among those who attended the service at St Paul's Cathedral, during which a minute's silence was observed. They were joined by survivors, relatives of the dead and members of the emergency services. Four large candles bearing the locations of each explosion were carried by people who helped deal with the immediate aftermath.

Before the start of the service, Mr Cameron and Mr Johnson laid wreaths at the 52 stainless steel pillars, one for each of the victims, in Hyde Park, which serve as a permanent memorial to those who lost their lives.

The Duke of Cambridge attended a second service at the memorial later in the day, placing flowers by a plaque on which the names of all the victims have been inscribed. He stayed behind after the service to speak to the families of the dead.

Developers shortlisted to take science park project forward

THE development of a new multi-million-pound science park within the Harlow Enterprise Zone has taken a major step forward.

Harlow Council has been searching for a development partner to build the new science park on land owned by the authority at London Road.

Three developers have now been shortlisted to come up with detailed proposals, with final tenders due to be submitted in October.

Council leader Jon Clempner said: "The quality of the shortlist shows the confidence developers have in Harlow as a place to do business."

An appointment of the winning developer is expected in December, with work starting in 2016.

The three shortlisted developers are MEPC, an established science park developer; Morgan Sindall Group and Discovery Park, a leading UK construction and regeneration company; and Vinci Developments, an international firm specialising in construction, infrastructure and facilities management.

The science park will be developed on a 25-acre site at London Road and focus on high technology businesses in the life science, ICT and advanced manufacturing sectors.

The new park will provide around 500,000 sq ft of space and more than 2,000 jobs. It will also complement the planned business park and data centre campus in the southern part of the Harlow Enterprise Zone at Kao Park.

We want the right solution

SIR I welcome the invitation by Essex Highways to comment on the proposals for a junction 7a of the M11, particularly as the previous consultation last year failed to allow everyone to submit their views.

What worries me is the presumption by the county that the residents of Harlow and surrounding areas want the Gilden Way/Sheering Road scheme which is now being pushed forward.

They need to realise the electorate will not take kindly to being forced into an option simply because it is the cheapest rather than it being what is right for the town.

The proposed scheme will direct traffic into the centre of our town which will cause greater congestion to the feeder roads throughout Harlow and leading onto the A414.

Does the county council not realise the regeneration of the town centre will never work if shoppers cannot access the retail businesses without having to sit on congested roads?

We have already suffered from traffic mismanagement that has given us constant delays with the introduction of multiple traffic lights and bus lanes. Not more, please.

Alan Leverett
Stony Wood, Harlow

SIR Essex County Council is holding three staffed exhibitions in east Harlow this month about a new M11 junction. To me, this would suggest the Gilden Way option is the council's only solution.

Surely the siting of a new junction affects all the residents of Harlow so I would suggest further exhibitions should be held throughout the other districts of Harlow to allow a full public consultation.

History has shown that choosing the cheapest option often ends up as being the more expensive in the long run.

Future large residential developments are planned for north Harlow and also around the south and west of Harlow. Surely the new junction 7A needs to link up to these developments.

One solution would be a southern ring road feeding off the existing junction. This would be a dual carriageway going south of Lutton Common, Parndon Wood, Kingsmoor, west of Katherines and Pinnacles, eventually linking up with the A414 west of Eastwick.

A second solution is a northern junction 7a which would run south of Pishiobury Drive and link up with Eastwick. A full and frank consultation is needed and the ideas and views of Harlow residents would be beneficial to ECC in making the right decision.

Church Langley, Harlow

Problem with traffic lights

SIR Further to my recent letter in the Star regarding the traffic lights being covered over by the roundabout passing Harlow Leisurezone, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people who replied. It is

READER photo of the week

■ This week's photo was sent in by Steve Henson, of Berecroft, Harlow, who writes: "I was walking home after being out with my camera on the Berecroft estate when I turned a corner and was met by this fox eating some dog/cat food. It was not at all worried about me, it just looked up and then carried on eating."

reassuring to know that people care about our roads in Harlow.

I feel very strongly about this matter and that it has been recognised that with the lights not being in use the situation with the traffic has been a great success. There has been much less traffic congestion.

I suggest that the same should be done with the traffic lights at the train station roundabout coming from the town centre. All that needs to be done is to change the road line so the cars give way to the buses.

Maybe it could be written on the road and put some give way signs up. It seems to me to be simple and easy option that will help stop congestion.

As stated before, when they did the bus lane past the old swimming pool coming from The Stow to the town centre there were no traffic lights and it has not caused a problem.

A. Dixon
Pittmans Field, Harlow

Warm words don't pay bills

SIR Last year I asked the following three questions: is there food poverty in Harlow, is there poverty in Harlow and are people born and raised in Harlow living in tents because of the lack of social housing in Harlow?

Sadly the answer to all three questions is yes, as was highlighted in a recent article in the Star.

The usual political banter is expressed by our MP about what the Government is doing – cutting tax for higher earners and reducing benefits, not only for those unemployed but also for those in work.

The same rubbish about this country being bankrupt is endorsed by the press but not before our national politicians enjoy an 11 per cent increase in their pay because, as our MP likes to tell us, he and they are hardworking.

Given that other public service employees like our doctors, nurses, social workers, police officers and teachers are only worth one per cent, surely it is illogical at best and hypocritical at worst.

The public services are now losing staff at great haste. Some have just had enough, like experienced doctors retiring early or just leaving the NHS, like the teachers who are leaving the profession in droves, like police officers and probation staff who are being let go and like nurses who are the backbone of the NHS who sadly leave the service and then rejoin via an agency at enormous cost to the service.

Is this what the public voted for in May? I didn't.

Unfortunately for those residents and professionals who are suffering these indignities, no warm words will help them pay for food, fuel or housing. Neither will the pathetic use of political dogma seen and heard recently in Parliament.

These politicians appear to want to accuse each other of causing the problems experienced by citizens rather than proactively and pragmatically addressing these serious issues. Let's hope that those residents that need help receive it and have a better year than 2014.

Gary Roberts
Carters Mead, Harlow

Town has so much to offer

SIR I disagree with Mrs Cole's comments about Harlow and her reaction to Robert Halfon's response to Victoria Beckham's comments about Harlow/Essex (Letters, June 25).

When Mr Halfon offered to show Mrs Beckham around the town I am sure the tour would not be confined to the closed down Marks & Spencer store and Little Walk. I, along with many others, am disappointed that M&S has shut and the town does need regeneration in places, but I have seen a lot worse.

Harlow town centre has everything you need and The Water Gardens is a lovely shopping area. There is a great theatre hosting brilliant entertainment and Harlow contributes much to the art world. Take the Gibberd Garden and sculptures for instance.

Before moving to Harlow, I lived in Ilford for 10 years and I grew up in Romford. The shopping centres of both towns offer great variety to the shopper but they have been far too overdeveloped. Ilford in particular is getting quite run down in places and they are also becoming very overpopulated.

Give me Harlow any day where I have space to myself without people barging into me or slamming doors in my face.

Maybe Mrs Cole has been unlucky but I have never had pigeons attack me in Harlow town or beer cans thrown at me.

I think Harlow is unique in that it has abundant green space everywhere, unlike many other towns where any green areas are built on. Harlow is not just about a town centre, there is the beautiful Town Park, a peaceful award-winning nature reserve and much woodland and parkland.

The River Stort running through Harlow is an idyllic picturesque feature.

I am sure that something here would have appealed to Mrs Beckham or anyone with an appreciation of nature and finer unspoiled areas.

Perhaps Harlow and Essex in general does not have the glamour of Los Angeles but we can't all live in places like that with the kind of money that Mrs Beckham has. It would be a very boring world if we all did.

Pavement hazard 'an accident waiting to happen'

Pensioner left bruised and bleeding after tripping over 'dangerous' slab

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A PENSIONER who suffered facial injuries after tripping over a raised paving slab in Harlow said it was "an accident waiting to happen".

Chris Deering, 70, was walking along Southern Way opposite the McDonald's restaurant at Staple Tye where he caught his foot on a paving slab which he described as "jutting out and dangerous".

He fell and landed on his face, suffering injuries which left him bloodied and bruised.

"My face was a bloody mess," said Mr Deering, of Temple Mead, Roydon. "I was not badly hurt but I was bruised and bleeding."

He said the slab he tripped over was sticking up by three quarters of an inch and to prove the point he placed a 20p piece next to it and took a photograph as evidence.

After picking himself up he walked over to his daughter Karen's house where he cleaned himself up.

Although not seriously injured, Mr Deering said he had a lucky escape.

"I'm in reasonable shape so it wasn't too bad for me, but I imagine if an elderly person with brittle bones was to trip over the slab they could be in hospital for weeks."

"It was an accident waiting to happen. I'm not a clumsy person but I didn't expect to encounter such a hazard."

"I fell so fast that I didn't even have chance to put my hands out. I fell head first into the pavement."

Accident

Mr Deering said he initially reported the accident to Harlow Council but was referred to Essex County Council which is the highways authority.

He also took it upon himself to spray paint the edge of the paving slab red as a warning to others.

An Essex Highways spokesman said: "We are sorry to hear about Mr Deering's fall and wish him a quick recovery."

"We have recorded his report of the condition of the pavement near Staple Tye. It has been logged for investigation and an inspector will visit the site in due course."

ANGRY: Above left, Chris Deering still shows signs of the injuries he suffered in the fall. Above, a 20p coin shows the height of the raised paving slab

Police respond to a 'worrying' increase in biker accidents

AN increase in the number of serious crashes involving bikers has prompted a warning from Essex Police that motorcyclists caught breaking the law by speeding or riding dangerously will be prosecuted.

In the first five months of the year officers were called to 64 fatal and serious injury collisions involving motorbikes, scooters and mopeds. A total of 147 slight injury collisions were also reported.

During May, a third of all road accidents in the county which resulted in fatal and serious injuries involved motorcycle riders.

Adam Pipe, casualty reduction manager for Essex Police, said: "In recent years we have had considerable successes in reducing fatal and serious injury motorcycle crashes, but the significant increases in fatal and serious injury collisions are extremely worrying and disappointing."

Collisions

"More people are turning to motorbikes, scooters and mopeds as a cheaper form of transport and a significant number of collisions do involve riders travelling to and from work. There has also been a significant increase in the number of collisions involving enthusiasts riding high-performance machines for pleasure."

Police have already stepped up activities in areas of the county where bikers have been reported carrying out reckless racing or stunts. The Safer Essex Roads Partnership is launching a campaign to encourage all road users to be more aware of motorbike and scooter riders.

Mr Pipe added: "We would prefer to educate riders and show them the consequences of riding too fast and taking too many risks, but we will definitely prosecute cases of high end offending, speed or careless or dangerous riding and put offenders before the courts as quickly as possible."

Earlier this year a motorcyclist from Harlow was banned from driving for 15 months and fined £400 after he was filmed weaving in and out of traffic at speeds up to 148mph on the M11 with a pillion passenger on board.

Exhibitions a chance to voice views on M11 junction plans

THE first of three exhibitions of proposals to improve access to Harlow from the M11 was held this week.

Essex County Council has been investigating a number of options including the creation of a new junction 7A.

It said the exhibitions will keep the public up to date on the current status of its investigations, including the proposals for a new junction and the likely effects on the surrounding area, including Gilden Way and The Campions.

The first was held on Tuesday at Sheering Village Hall where council representatives were on hand to answer questions and receive feedback.

A second will be held today (Thursday) at St John's Art and Recreation Centre, in Market Street, Old Harlow, from 2-8pm while the third will take place at the same venue on Wednesday (July 15), again from 2-8pm.

Cllr Rodney Bass, Essex County Council's cabinet member for highways and transportation, said: "As Harlow grows, the amount of traffic grows with it which is why we need to look at how best to improve the road network."

"I would encourage members of the public to get involved by attending the exhibitions so we can find out their views on how best to reduce the increasing strain on the local and wider road network."

In brief

On the run for a worthy cause...

HARLOW: Children and teachers at a primary school were joined by parents in a fun run to raise funds for Cancer Research UK.

The event at Freshwaters Primary Academy saw all those taking part complete a 1km route around school grounds.

More than £1,200 was raised and the run was such a success that it will be repeated next year.

Learning mentor Janet Lankester said: "It was wonderful to see so many parents join their children to run and raise money, with many more supporting their child's efforts by helping them to get sponsorship."

He's a cut above

HARLOW: Trainee hairdresser Lewis Sensom has been named Student Of The Year at Hertford Regional College.

The 20-year-old, from Brook Lane, Sawbridgeworth, works four days a week at Mr Mark's salon in Post Office Walk, Harlow, and has recently finished a two-year Level 2 apprenticeship at HRC.

Head hails improvements after inspection by Ofsted

Primary school showing signs of progress in three out of five key areas

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW primary school has proved to Ofsted inspectors that it is making progress following a recent inspection.

When Cooks Spinney Primary was last inspected in September 2013 it was found to be failing in three out of four key areas and was given a 'requires improvement' rating.

A team of inspectors returned to the school last month to carry out a two-day inspection, the results of which were that the school received a rating of 'good' in three of five key areas. However, it has been told that it still requires improvement.

After the visit, the first since the school became part of the Burnt Mill Co-operative Academy Trust, the three inspectors said it was well-led and managed and added the new senior leadership team displayed a clear understanding of what needed to be done to improve pupils' achievements.

"In a relatively short time, leaders have begun to improve the quality of teaching and pupils' progress," said their report. "Pupils enjoy coming to school and attendance has improved significantly. Pupils get along well with each other and their behaviour is good."

The school was rated good for leadership and management, behaviour and safety of pupils and early years provision. However, inspectors said there was still room for improvement in the quality of teaching and the achievement of pupils.

"Although many pupils make the progress expected of them, progress in some year groups is not good enough," said the report. "The most able pupils do not achieve as well as they could because they are not always challenged with harder work."

"Teachers do not all have high enough expectations of the quality and quantity of the work pupils can produce. Some activities for pupils lack urgency and pupils get little done."

The inspectors said teachers did not always give pupils clear guidance on how to improve their work while the way senior leaders checked pupils' progress against the National Curriculum was not reliable.

Head of school Stuart Pope said: "We were able to show the inspectors our strong progress. The efforts we have put in and the rapid changes we have made are clear to see."

"The report is a fair reflection of the school as it stands. We are getting it right with the early years and outcomes are improving. It's the bit in the middle we now need to work on."

"Our children are absolutely amazing and they deserve the very best. They were really well mannered and polite during the inspection and happy to talk about their experiences."

He added: "The fact we are aware of our strengths and weaknesses was acknowledged and that's all we can ask for."

St Luke's receives 'good' rating

ST Luke's Catholic Academy, in Pyenest Road, Harlow, is celebrating after Ofsted awarded it a 'good' rating in all five key areas following its latest inspection.

The inspectors' report said teachers prepared pupils well for life in modern Britain while the curriculum made a strong contribution to their spiritual, moral, social and cultural development.

They also praised the positive attitudes of pupils towards learning and said behaviour was good with little time wasted in lessons.

Teaching was described as good and executive headteacher Anne Marie McCann was applauded for promoting high expectations of behaviour and learning across the school, as a result of which standards were rising.

After a previous inspection the school was rated as 'requiring improvement'.

Ms McCann said: "The staff and children have worked very hard to achieve this judgement and look forward to continuing to improve."

"We are now aiming for an 'outstanding' judgement."

OUT AND ABOUT: Children from Fidgety Fingers take part in the bug hunt

Picture this: Bug hunt with a difference

YOUNGSTERS at a nursery set off on the trail of nature when they took part in an expedition to find creepy crawlies and beastly bugs.

The excited two-four year-olds from Fidgety Fingers, in Willow Place, Hastingwood, were accompanied by their parents on the bug hunt.

However, they were not looking for real creatures. Instead, staff at the nursery had placed laminated pictures of bugs in a nearby field and the children were given the task of finding them.

As well as teaching the children about nature, the bug hunt raised more than £500 for the charity Porridge and Rice, which helps children in Africa.

Nursery manager Jackie Neagle said: "It was really good and all the children had a fantastic time looking for the laminated bugs.

"Every year we choose a charity and this year we opted for Porridge and Rice as one of the children's parents works for them.

Sponsored

"We did a bug hunt last year and we have also done a sponsored cycle ride in the past."

She added the nursery is now hoping to set-up a link to a similar pre-school in Africa.

Nursery is among first to join jam jar scheme

A CHILDREN'S nursery in Harlow is among the first to sign up to a new fundraising campaign launched by St Clare Hospice.

The youngsters at Busy Bees, at The Greenway, have been recruited to the hospice's Jam Jar Army.

St Clare community fundraiser Dani De'ath said: "Our Jam Jar Army is our simplest fundraising campaign yet and really is so easy to do. "To get started all you need to do is get a jam jar, enjoy the contents and then stick one of our Jam Jar Army labels on it. Then start filling your jar with spare change or any coins you have lying about."

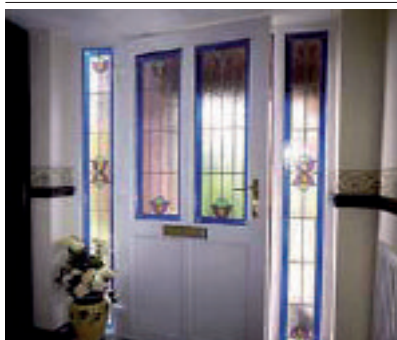

The campaign gives people of all ages the chance to see their small change make a big difference to the lives of local people facing a life-limiting diagnosis.

"You can have as many jam jars as you like," said Miss De'ath.

"Perhaps one at home and one at work, and don't forget to place it somewhere you will see it regularly.

"It is ideal for schools, youth groups, businesses or your kitchen windowsill at home. Just about anyone can take part."

■ Jam Jar Army labels are available by contacting the St Clare fundraising team on 01279 773750 or at fund@stclarehospice.org.uk.

FUNDRAISERS pushed themselves to the limit by taking part in a charity triathlon to raise money for Mind in West Essex.

Almost £2,000 was raised at the event, which was held at The Manor of Groves Health Club in High Wych on Sunday.

Some 17 competitors including TV presenter Jeff Brazier battled their way through a gruelling 9km cycle ride, 5km run before finishing with 1,000m swim.

The indoor triathlon was organised by Caroline Collins, owner of Healthy Body, Healthy Mind personal training and director of NXP professionals, both based in Harlow. She said: "I'm so grateful to everyone who signed up to do something we've never done before."

Overwhelmed

"It was an amazing day and I am totally overwhelmed by the amount of money raised."

She added: "The event would not have been possible without the amazing support of The Manor Of Groves and their staff, who were helpful and patient throughout the event."

Caroline also gave a special thanks to Chogou, who printed t-shirts for the event, Harlow Star,

Fast food outlet undergoes high-tech refurb

William Mata

CUSTOMERS of the McDonald's fast food outlet in Harlow town centre were given a taste of things to come when it unveiled its new look after a high-tech refurbishment.

The Broad Walk eatery, which first opened back in 1983, is now equipped with self-service kiosks, digital menu boards and tablet computers, while free wi-fi is also available.

The premises have also been redecorated while 30 new members of staff have been taken on.

One of the first to try out the new facilities was Harlow MP Robert Halfon, who performed the official ribbon-cutting ceremony before being shown how to use one of the new self service ordering points by franchise holder Tony Fagg.

"I am delighted to welcome this important investment in Harlow and the 30 new jobs that have been created as a result," said Mr Halfon. "It was a pleasure to meet staff and customers and see their enthusiasm for the new look restaurant and technology."

Thrilled

Mr Fagg added: "We are thrilled to be able to play a part in the regeneration of the local area and to bring an extra boost to the economy here in Harlow."

"Staying ahead of customer expectations is vital and the new technology that we have introduced in this branch recognises the way people live their lives today."

Police investigated for abuse failures

SIX serving Essex Police officers are being investigated for misconduct in a public office and perverting the course of justice.

The allegations centre around failures in child abuse investigations.

The Independent Police Complaints Commission has issued 25 notices to serving officers and a further four notices have been issued to former Essex Police personnel who have either resigned or retired.

Essex Police and Crime Commissioner Nick Alston said protecting children and other vulnerable members of the community was an "absolute priority".

"It is important to remember that Essex Police itself initiated the review into the quality of child abuse investigations carried out by the North Child Abuse Investigation Team. It is completely right that the IPCC continues to progress its investigation and we must be careful not to pre-judge the outcome."

Deputy Chief Constable Derek Benson said: "These investigations relate to issues we identified and referred to the IPCC. We took a number of immediate actions to put things right and will work with the IPCC to identify where further improvements need to be made."

He added: "There is no more important issue to Essex Police than protecting children. If you are currently suffering from abuse or believe someone that you know is, you should call us immediately on 999."

Rotary clubs' riverside stroll in aid of hospice

SEVEN Rotary clubs including Harlow and Harlow Tye have joined forces to organise a five-mile family walk in aid of St Clare Hospice.

The Sunday stroll on July 19 is suitable for all ages and there will be a choice of two starting points - The Moorhen pub in Harlow or Pig Lane in Bishop's Stortford. The start time for both is 10am.

Both routes will follow the River Stort and end at Pishobury Park in Sawbridgeworth where there will be a picnic with beer tent, brass band, refreshments and children's activities.

Derek Crowther, president of the Stort Valley Club, said: "All the Rotary clubs involved in organising this walk are from west Essex and East Herts, so we wanted to choose a charity that is making a difference to the lives of people in those areas."

"We couldn't think of a better organisation to support on our first joint enterprise, and we very much hope this will become an annual fixture."

Tickets are £10 for adults (children free) and can be booked by visiting the events page of St Clare's website at www.stclarehospice.org.uk.

Fundraising dad to raise money for autism work

THE father of an autistic boy is attempting a challenging cycle ride to help those with the condition.

Jonathan Dove, 39, from Katherines, Harlow, will tackle the 100-mile Prudential RideLondon to support the National Autistic Society on August 2, with the aim of raising £3,000.

"The ride seemed a good way to test myself and raise funds. I took up cycling in December last year and enjoyed it so much that I joined a cycling club," said Mr Dove, a golf manager.

"NAS offer invaluable support to those with, or caring for someone with, autism."

Mr Dove has already raised more than £2,000, well above his initial £700 target.

His son Bobby, seven, is currently being home schooled and the family hope to have gain a place for him at an autism friendly school to begin in September.

MP calls for action over state of trains

Operator told more staff and better cleaning needed

William Mata

william.mata@hertssexnews.co.uk

TRAINS serving Harlow should be cleaner and more hygienic according to MP Robert Halfon, who has demanded changes from operator Abellio Greater Anglia.

The MP for Harlow told representatives from the Dutch franchise holder that his constituents were unhappy with the cleanliness of carriages and said the firm should be providing better value for money.

Abellio, who operate the London to Cambridge rail line, said they would be investing more than £30m to upgrade the train fleet, raise performance and cleanliness across the network.

Problem

However, Mr Halfon listed further failings in their service including the "serious problem" of a lack of platform staff.

He raised particular concern about commuter parking costs and also raised concerns about a sinking platform at Roydon station.

"Residents regularly contact me complaining about the quality of service they receive but Abellio and Network Rail have both assured me they will be doing everything they can," he said.

"Abellio have invested more than £5 million and hired 80 cleaners since last year, but know more needs to be done and are committed to hiring cleaners and better cleaning methods."

Abellio has pledged to refurbish all 24 of their trains by March 2016, but the complaints about the firm's service did not stop there.

"The lack of staff at station platforms has also become a serious problem," added Mr Halfon.

"I am glad Abellio is committed to ways of resolving this, such as having virtual ticket offices."

"I hope by the end of this year Harlow residents can benefit from a more flexible and satisfactory service."

"I welcome the proposals but the proof of the pudding will be in the eating."

Abellio also plan to introduce a new smart card system for Roydon commuters to give passengers the choice of paying for their ticket either before or after their journey to tackle the problem with lack of staff.

An Abellio spokesman said: "We were pleased to meet with Robert Halfon MP to discuss train service issues."

"We are investing over £30m in the current short franchise to upgrade our train fleet, raise customer service standards, increase train performance and improve cleanliness across our network."

There are also plans to hold an over 30s seven-a-side football competition.

The Williams Day Unit supports and treats cancer patients of all ages and at various stages of therapy.

Gavin Dangerfield, business manager at Essex Bathrooms & Kitchens, said: "Depending on its success, we will try to run this an annual event to support local organisations that need help."

Ambulance awards

More than 100 staff and volunteers received awards at a ceremony earlier this month.

Church fete organisers hold their first dog show

DOGS stole the show when the organisers of a church fete held their first pup idol competition.

St Mary's Church, at Great Parndon, raised hundreds of pounds for charity as more than 200 people took advantage of the weather on Saturday to enjoy the activities and entertainment.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon accepted the role of dog show judge and helped choose the winners in the various categories, including waggiest tail, most handsome hound, best crossbreed, the dog the judges would most like to take home. There was also a 'six-legged award' for dog and owner.

Organiser Gill Williams said afterwards: "I thought a dog show might be a good idea for the fete and decided to ask Robert to be a judge.

"We all pitched in to help and it was a great success. We are thinking about doing it again next year."

She added: "All the dogs were really happy, especially the winners who were given a certificate and a toy as a prize."

Robbers threaten victim with liquid-filled syringe

HARLOW: A gang of muggers threatened a man with a liquid-filled syringe during a street robbery in Harlow.

The 51-year-old victim, who lives locally, was walking in the underpass at Fourth Avenue in the early hours of last Wednesday when he was surrounded by the group of five men.

They snatched his mobile phone and when he tried to fight back they threatened him by putting the syringe containing dark coloured liquid up to his face.

The gang also stole cash and a personal cassette player before running off towards Princess Alexandra Hospital, leaving the victim shaken but uninjured.

All five members of the gang were wearing dark clothing. Three were black and two white.

Anybody with information should contact PC Leo Fordham at Harlow CID on the 101 number.

Roadworks warning

HARLOW: Roadworks to widen the A414 at the approaches to the Clock Tower roundabout in Harlow will start next week.

As part of a major improvement scheme, Essex Highways is planning to increase the width of the carriageways on both the southern and northern approaches to the roundabout.

The work is scheduled to start on Tuesday and is due to be completed by the end of September. Road closures will be in place at night while lights will control traffic flow during the day.

Motorists have warned to expect delays during the course of the works.

Three held after crash

M11: Three men were arrested on suspicion of dangerous driving, people trafficking and immigration offences following an accident on the M11 north of Harlow on Saturday.

Police were called after a van towing a caravan overturned between junctions eight and nine of the motorway. A 15-year-old girl was taken to hospital with injuries described as not serious.

Two men, both from Poland, were arrested on suspicion of dangerous driving and people trafficking. A third man, also from Poland, was arrested on suspicion of immigration offences.

All three were later released without charge.

Charity volunteer Marion completes 20 years of service

AN RSPCA volunteer who has completed 20 years of service with the animal welfare charity has been hailed a hero by her colleagues.

As treasurer and co-ordinator of the RSPCA's Stort Valley branch, Marion Wellsman has overseen public donations, accounts and membership.

Colleague Marie Shaw said: "She has completed seven days a week of unpaid work for 20 years and I feel she deserves some recognition."

"It is a full-on job as we have to be on call all of the time. Marion has done so much for the town in her time and she should be celebrated."

Mrs Wellsman, who lives in Harlow, worked as an accountant before joining the RSPCA after she retired in 1995.

She was part of the original core team that opened the branch's animal clinic and advice centre in The Stow in 1997 and has worked hard to serve the community ever since.

Mrs Shaw added: "We currently have nine staff and are always on the lookout for more people to help."

Anyone interested should (01279) 306058.

Groups invited to seek grants for projects in the community

COMMUNITY groups in Harlow are being urged to bid for a share of £1.5m which is being made available from a small grants scheme operated by Essex County Council.

The Community Initiatives Fund is designed to create, procure or develop new projects, enhance existing schemes or develop initiatives designed to strengthen communities.

Last year total of 90 individual projects benefited from the fund, receiving sums of up to £20,000.

Community-led groups and organisations from all 12 districts, boroughs and the City of Chelmsford are being invited to apply to the fund for a grant.

The task of approving the allocation of fund rests with local panels made up of representatives from parish and town councils, Community Voluntary Service and other voluntary and charitable organisations.

Supporting

Cllr Roger Hirst, cabinet member for customer services, libraries, planning and the environment at Essex County Council, said: "The Community Initiatives Fund is an excellent example of how the council is supporting communities to help themselves."

"By increasing the opportunities for local residents, community groups and volunteers individually to shape their local facilities and undertake new ventures, we will see them make Essex an even better place to live and work than it is today."

The fund has been designed to be as flexible and responsive as possible to the needs of communities.

Motorists caught in summer crackdownPolice arrest 102 drivers for alcohol or drugs offences

Ken Morley

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

POLICE chiefs in Essex say they are disappointed that motorists continue to flout drink/drive laws after more than 100 were arrested during the force's latest crackdown.

Officers were out across the county enforcing a zero-tolerance approach during the month-long summer campaign. As well as breathalysing drivers, they used for the first time new drug testing kits to detect illegal drugs including cannabis and cocaine.

A total of 1,148 drivers were breathalysed and 92 were found to be driving over the legal alcohol limit or refused or failed to provide a sample.

A further 26 drivers were tested for drugs and 10 were found to be driving under the influence of illegal drugs.

During last year's summer campaign, a total of 1,577 drivers were breathalysed and 93 were arrested on suspicion of being over the legal alcohol limit or refusing or failing to provide a sample.

Adam Pipe, Essex Police's casualty reduction manager, said: "It is always very disappointing to see that a number of drivers consider themselves to be above the law and continue to put the lives of other innocent road users at risk by getting behind the wheel under the influence of alcohol and drugs."

"The summer campaign may have come to an end but that doesn't mean our efforts to take irresponsible drivers off the county's roads will. We will continue to take a zero tolerance approach to people who drive under the influence."

Report

He also urged the public to report drivers who regularly choose to get behind the wheel while drunk or high on drugs, adding: "By telling us about someone who regularly drinks alcohol and drives you could be saving someone's life."

Ann Scott, eastern regional manager for Crimestoppers, said: "Some people may have information about a regular drink driver but feel uncomfortable going directly to the police especially if they are a neighbour, family member or friend. There is a safe alternative in passing information to the independent charity Crimestoppers."

"We take this information 100 per cent anonymously. We never ask for the caller's name or personal details, we do not trace or record our calls and those giving information do not have to give a statement to the police or go to court."

Work starts to replace bridge

Drivers warned of road closures during 21-week project

Martin Ford

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

PREPARATORY work is due to start this week on replacing a river bridge on a road used by motorists travelling from Harlow to Hoddesdon.

The Fish and Eels bridge, which crosses the River Lee Navigation at Dobbs Weir, will be replaced with a metal, prestressed integral bridge.

It is due to be closed entirely from Monday, July 27 for up to 21 weeks while the work is carried out by Essex County Council contractor, Ringway.

Roydon Parish Council discussed a planning application detailing minor changes to the bridge works at its meeting on last Thursday. The plans dashed hopes that the new design would have enabled cars to move in both directions, rather than alternating under the control of traffic lights.

CROSSING: The bridge at Dobbs Weir which is set to be replaced

"It's tragic they have not made it the full width of the road," said Councillor Colin Mould. "The traffic snarls up."

Councillor Peter Barker, who represents the Dobbs Weir ward, said: "They haven't thought about it whatsoever. Everything is a wing and a prayer."

Although the bridge is officially restricted to vehicles under 7.5 tonnes, it is regularly used by 20-tonne lorries.

The planned diversion will take traffic via Station Road in Broxbourne and across the dog-leg bridge, adding up to seven miles to journeys from Dobbs Weir to Hoddesdon.

There will also be a diversion to people using the towpath between Monday, July 20 and Friday, November 13.

The Lee Navigation itself will be completely closed at night on Thursday, July 30 and Thursday, September 17 and temporary closures could hold up water traffic on Monday, August 10 and Thursday, September 24.

Mr Barker said: "They need to be on the ball with traffic management and push the contractor to get it done as quickly as possible."

Grand old man-atee

Fact file

- Manatees are herbivores which means that they only eat plants. They spend most of their time in the water grazing for food as they consume very large amounts of it.
- They swim at an average speed of five miles per hour but for short periods they can reach speeds of about 15mph.
- A manatee can live to be up to 60 years of age in the wild.
- Fossils of manatees have been found that are more than 60 million years old.
- Manatees spend approximately half of each day sleeping.
- A manatee doesn't have a blowhole like many people assume. It breathes through nostrils when it comes to the surface for air.

THE world's oldest living manatee is just about to celebrate his 67th birthday.

Snooty, has been officially recognised by the Guinness World Records as the oldest living manatee in captivity.

Manatees are large aquatic mammals which live in water and are related to the elephant.

Often referred to as sea cows and once mistaken by sailors as mermaids, they are grayish brown in color and have thick, wrinkled skin on which there is often a growth of algae.

Their front flippers help them steer, or sometimes crawl, through shallow water and they also have powerful, flat tails.

Snooty lives in the Parker Manatee Aquarium at the South Florida Museum in America and was the first recorded birth of a manatee in captivity. He measures 2.9 metres in length and weighs 462 kilograms.

His favourite foods are lettuce, carrots, broccoli and sweet potatoes and in just one day he can eat 31kg of lettuce and 4.5kg of vegetables.

He has proved so popular with visitors that he has his own webcam which allows people all over the world to see him.

A spokesman for the South Florida Museum said: "Snooty is one of the most renowned stewards for endangered species and the environment, having taught researchers much of what they know about manatees."

Victoria Hall Theatre, Bury Road, Old Harlow

£11 (£9 concessions)

Harlow Theatre Company presents Rent, a musical telling the story of a group of impoverished artists living in New York's East Village and the bohemian Alphabet City during the mid 1990s and their struggles living under the shadow of HIV/AIDS. Loosely based on La Bohème, the show started life as a workshop production with a limited three-week run off Broadway. On the evening before its premiere, the show's writer Jonathan Larson died suddenly but the show went on the following day to critical acclaim and soon moved to Broadway for a very successful run. HTC's production – the company's first musical for 18 years – is directed by Jody Randal and choreographed by Paul Tarling, with musical direction from Chris Redman.

Erdem Misirlioglu is a previous finalist in the BBC Young Musician of the Year competition. They will be playing Brahms' Trio C minor op 101, Ravel's Trio A minor and Shostakovich Trio E minor (1 movement).

The Bishop's Stortford-based Jacqui Ison School of Dance and Theatre Arts return with Don't Stop the Music!, featuring performances from current British, national and world dance champions as well as pupils appearing in the West End and the Edinburgh Fringe Festival. The show is inspired by the varied and rich traditions of artists and musicians and is expressed with a raw finesse, unique beauty and power.

THE CHILTERN QUARTET

St John's ARC, Market Street, Old Harlow

Sunday, July 12 (3pm) £12-£14

This newly formed quartet of Ruth Williams (violin), Rebecca Scott (violin), Ania Ullman (viola) and Nicola Tait (cello) perform their first recital. The programme features Fantasias by Purcell, The Rosamunde String quartet in A minor D804 by Schubert, Chrysanthemums ('crisantemi') by Puccini and G minor String Quartet op 10 by Debussy. As well the music, the audience will also be able to enjoy a selection of home-made cakes.

West End star Kate to sing for charity

WEST End musical star Kate Coysten will lend her voice to a special charity performance next weekend.

Having previously performed in Les Misérables and The Sound of Music, Kate is currently starring in Mamma Mia! and has taken time out of her busy schedule to sing and fundraise for Home-Start Harlow.

Kate said she is looking forward to the concert at Gaston House, in Little Hallingbury, as the more intimate setting will allow full audience participation.

"It's really nice to do a local event," said the 40-year-old, who grew up and lives in Sawbridgeworth.

"It's a nice thought that everyone I know and went to school with could be watching it."

The concert on Sunday, July 19, will be the fourth summer fundraiser in two years to be held at Gaston House as part of a joint partnership between Kate and local promoter Geoff Petts.

The performance will act as something of a comeback show with fellow West End performer Greg Castiglioni joining Kate on stage.

"I will sing a selection of songs from the stage," said Kate.

"Everything I sing will be from shows or films and I don't want to go too left field as I want to engage an audience and put on a show that people enjoy."

Since starting out performing at The Playhouse in Harlow, Kate went on to study in London before moving back to Sawbridgeworth, where she currently lives with her mother.

"Every show I have been in has been great for a different reason, but my all-time favourite was Les Mis, a play I was in for three years," she said.

Now as she enters her 40s, Kate is considering a future away from the stage.

"Every year I keep saying that I'm going to retire, but then a big job will come up and I have to re-think," said Kate.

"I am loving Mamma Mia! I am in the ensemble, but also an understudy for some characters.

"We are doing eight performances a week on a year's contract. It's been very busy.

"The audience is what really makes it and they are so energetic."

Home-Start supports families in need of help and guidance through challenging times and recently had a large amount of its funding withdrawn.

Concert co-organiser Geoff said: "Home-Start does an amazing job for the people of Harlow, but the charity is desperately short of money.

"I understand they need to raise £20,000 in the next three months for the service to continue. Kate and I are hoping the concert will go some way to easing the financial pressure."

Tickets are £15, with children 12 and under free. Gates open at 3pm with the concert starting at 4pm.

Family festival to be held at 'hidden' manor

A HIDDEN gem is set to be revealed to the public at a brand new event later this month.

Nazeing Park House will host Harmoniser, a new charity music festival on Saturday, July 11.

The event, which organisers hope will become an annual fixture, will be the first chance for the public to explore some of the grounds of the 17th century house as it bids to become a venue for future public events and private functions.

Event organiser Diana Pollen said: "This is an opportunity to show who we are and what we can do.

"A lot of people don't know we do events here."

Among the performers on stage will be Lisa Kwei, who counts

Beth Orton and Massive Attack among her influences, 21-year-old singer-songwriter Drew-Levi Huntsman and classical tenor Davide Sorrentino, from Stanstead Abbots.

Duo Heartbeat will play a range of covers, Voodoo Prayer will bring their brand of garage rock to the festival and 17-year-old artist Cameron Sanderson will also take to the stage.

In addition to the music bill, there will also be the chance to try your hand at archery, displays of falconry and children can have fun on inflatables and meet a range of animals.

■ Tickets are available at www.nazeingpark.com or on the door priced at £6.50 for adults and £3 for children.

Harris roars with Lion

LEGENDARY rocker Steve Harris will bring his famous galloping bass playing back to Harlow this month but not as part of Iron Maiden.

While he continues to work on the new album of the band he founded in 1975, Steve will spend the summer touring with side project British Lion.

"I'm really looking forward to it," says Harris ahead of the band's performance at Harlow's The Square on Wednesday, July 29.

"We have a lot of fun, and it's really nice for me to play small venues and be so close to the fans. I've always liked clubs and now I have the best of both worlds."

Indeed, The Square is something of a departure for the metal legend, who have been touring arenas with Iron Maiden for more than two decades.

On the eve of the release of new Maiden LP The Book of Souls in September, it could seem a peculiar move for Harris to be diverting his attention to another project.

However, with Maiden frontman Bruce Dickinson currently undergoing cancer treatment, promotions and touring for the album have been pushed back into early 2016, which gave Steve an opportunity to pursue a second passion.

Released in September 2012, British Lion's self-titled debut was Steve's first venture into a world without Maiden.

The classic rock feel of the album was something of a departure from what he usually performs, and Steve said he has enjoyed the project.

"It has been great. I've known the British Lion lads for a long time (the group having crossed paths throughout the 1990s) so it's been totally natural," he said.

"It took a few years to piece it all together and hopefully the next one will be a bit quicker."

"I haven't really worked that way before and it was just a case of necessity, but if you get a result you're happy with I suppose that's what matters."

"But in an ideal world I would prefer to do it in a block, but that is just not possible as Maiden always comes first, of course."

With support from The Raven Age, British Lion will also play shows in Colchester and Oxford before finishing in London at the end of August.

■ Tickets cost £15 and are on sale now from The Square website, www.thesquareharlow.com

Dads raise a glass to Gibberd beer festival

PUB lovers braved the rain to roll out the barrel for the eighth annual Gibberd Garden Beer Festival.

Punters enjoyed a fine selection of east England's top beers and ciders as well as music, a barbecue and children's entertainment.

Held across Father's Day weekend, June 20-21, the festival was a great success, with an excellent turnout supporting local breweries. Organisers praised the joint efforts of Herts and Essex Borders branch and the Gibberd Garden Trust in organising the weekend.

The festival had been due to be opened by dark ale lover Robert Halfon, but the local MP had to cancel.

Brendan Southcott, festival co-organiser, said: "The festival was a great success despite the rain on Saturday afternoon. The large tents came in useful to give people a handy refuge."

'Greatest failure' Otway brings his hit to Rhodes

JOHN Otway, the self-proclaimed "Rock and Roll's Greatest Failure", brought his musicianship to Rhodes after a long career which began with a painful boost.

Otway, whose summer dates include a slot at Glastonbury and the London Palladium, credits a 1977 appearance on TV's The Old Grey Whistle Test as the spark for his unusual career.

A positive response after the show was followed swiftly by a five-album deal, worth around £250,000 in today's money, with major record label Polydor.

Despite success with the 1977 single Really Free with Wild Willy Barrett and a popular live song which saw him headbutt his guitar, early promise didn't bear fruit – at least not in record sales.

Speaking to Go! the 62-year-old Aylesbury-born singer-songwriter said: "From a ridiculously early age, I decided I wanted to go into rock music."

"The first major TV thing I did was The Old Grey Whistle Test. Five-and-a-half million people were watching and I jumped on a speaker and landed on my b*cks."

Otway has since turned that episode into a flicker book which features in his autobiography, Cor Baby, That's Really Me.

He said: "Polydor paid me a huge advance hoping I would have more hits, but it didn't happen. They were really disappointed."

For his 50th birthday, he urged fans to help him gain a second hit record – so he could add an 's' to 'hit' for a greatest hits album.

God only knows dark secrets

Love & Mercy

COMEDY: (12A) 121 minutes

Director: Bill Pohlad

Starring: John Cusack, Paul Dano, Elizabeth Banks, Paul Giamatti, Kenny Wormald, Brett Davern, Jake Abel, Graham Rogers, Bill Camp, Diana Maria Riva

FORMED in 1961, The Beach Boys perfectly captured the vitality and exuberance of California's youth culture, surfing to the top of the charts with harmonised feel-good hits including I Get Around and Help Me, Rhonda.

The sunny, wholesome dispositions of brothers Brian, Dennis and Carl Wilson, cousin Mike Love and friend Al Jardine concealed dark discord.

The Wilson boys cowered in the shadow of their abusive father, Murry, who managed the band, and main songwriter Brian was experiencing early manifestations of a mental illness, which combined symptoms of schizophrenia and bipolar disorder.

Bill Pohlad's sensitive biopic explores this turbulent period in the band's history, juxtaposing Brian's first battles with his illness and the love affair, some 20 years later, which provided the creative spark for his award-winning solo album, Smile.

Scriptwriters Oren Moverman and Michael A Lerner overcome the daunting prospect of dual timeframes with finesse, while director Pohlad elicits strong performances from Paul Dano and John Cusack as the two incarnations of a song-writing genius.

In the 1980s, Brian (Cusack) meets spunky car dealer Melinda Ledbetter (Elizabeth Banks).

A nervous first date exposes Wilson's mental fragility and Melinda learns that the singer-songwriter is under the care of his personal physician, Dr Eugene Landy (Paul Giamatti).

Brian's quirks do not deter Melinda and when controlling Dr Landy attempts to terminate the relationship, the plucky car dealer recruits Brian's housekeeper Gloria (Diana Maria Riva) to expose the medic as a madman.

Intercut with this pivotal romance, stylised flashbacks usher in the groovy 1960s when Brian (Dano) reacts to the release of The Beatles' Revolver with steely resolve.

"I'm going to write the greatest album ever made," he promises Dennis (Kenny Wormald), Carl (Brett Davern), Mike (Jake Abel) and Al (Graham Rogers).

While the quartet tours Japan without Brian, he takes up residence in a studio to craft the progressive and daring LP, Pet Sounds.

Brian plays an early version of God Only Knows to his father Murry (Bill Camp) and the old man curls his lip.

"I don't care for it," he tells his crestfallen boy.

Brian questions his artistic genius and the sniping voices in his head grow louder...

For a film that confronts the vagaries of the human mind and various forms of abuse, Love & Mercy is too neat in its depictions of characters and their poisonous relationships.

Cusack is in rare form, nicely echoing vocal patterns and mannerisms in Dano's portrayal, and Banks is luminous in the line of fire.

Giamatti and Camp err perilously close to pantomime villains, the latter eliciting boos when he sells the rights to The Beach Boys' songs for a pittance and coldly tells Brian, "Five years from now, no one is going to remember you or The Beach Boys."

As usual, he was wrong and goodness prevailed.

TROUBLED GENIUS: John Cusack plays Brian Wilson, who suffers from mental illness

Bear-brained sequel

Ted 2

COMEDY: (15) 116 minutes
Director: Seth MacFarlane
Starring: Mark Wahlberg, Amanda Seyfried, Jessica Barth, John Slattery, voice of Seth MacFarlane

In 2012, writer-director Seth MacFarlane's mismatched buddy comedy Ted was a surprise hit. Man's best friend wasn't a dog after all – it was a potty-mouthed, talking teddy with a penchant for beer, bong and scantily-clad ladies.

Sadly, the bear necessities of modern life don't stretch to a second film because Ted 2 is padded with as much fluff as the huggable hero.

The sequel is a vast improvement on MacFarlane's previous film, A Million Ways To Die In The West, but even root-canal treatment would be preferable to a repeat viewing of that tumbleweed spoof.

The sweetness and romance, which distinguished the original Ted, have been diluted to the point of blandness here and a climactic set piece at a pop culture convention is an unsightly mess.

Direction plods without any urgency and politically incorrect, gross-out interludes are laced with malice.

Between the frequent yawns, MacFarlane conjures moments of magic – new love interest Amanda Seyfried's a cappella rendition of Mean Ol' Moon; a bizarre yet hilarious cameo by Liam Neeson – but these are fleeting.

Ted 2 opens with John Bennett (Mark Wahlberg) divorced from Lori (Mila Kunis) and fur ball companion Ted (voiced by MacFarlane) poised to walk down the aisle with a brassy checkout girl called Tami-Lynn (Jessica Barth).

One year later, the honeymoon is over and Ted and Tami-Lynn are arguing incessantly.

Ted's supermarket co-worker (Cocoa Brown) passes on a nugget of her wisdom: "You better have a baby or your marriage is over".

The bear lacks the necessary appendage to impregnate Tami-Lynn, so he hatches a plot to steal the sperm of American football legend Tom Brady (playing himself).

The bear-brained scheme misfires and Ted and Tami-Lynn approach an adoption agency. Their application is red flagged because the state of Massachusetts recognises Ted as a piece of property not a person.

Soon after, the bear loses his job and the marriage is annulled.

"We take this all the way to Judge Judy if we have to," bellows John and the pals head to court with idealistic attorney Samantha L Jackson (Amanda Seyfried) to uphold Ted's civil rights.

Ted 2 runs on empty in terms of originality, relying entirely on our affection for the characters to sustain interest.

Wahlberg trades lacklustre banter with his computer-generated pal and there's an absence of on-screen chemistry with Seyfried.

What's on, when it's on, where it's on STORTFORD'S charity music festival Cazfest will swamp Sworder's Field with revellers on Saturday with The X Factor band Stereo Kicks topping the bill on the main stage.

The festival will also feature a packed second stage line up (12 noon to 8pm) of local acts courtesy of the De Rosa Music in Water Lane and a dance tent headlined by the Stortford-born host of monthly Ministry Of Sound nights in London, Mark Radford.

Stereo Kicks (10pm) head an eclectic main stage line-up of chart-scaling bands who will bring rap rhythms, R&B tones and Balkan beats to the party.

London trio Stooshe (9pm), known for their single Love Me, will play after Bom Bom singers and trumpet-riff playing Sam And The Womp (8.10pm) perform.

Essex pop punk band Reachback (7.30pm), up-and-coming hip hop artist Kieran Alleyne (6.45pm) and festival stalwarts The Kazans (6pm), who knew Caroline 'Caz' Johnston – in whose memory the festival is run – from their time in sixth form, will perform.

Hip hop-opera act Josephine And The Artizans (5.15pm) will play after alternative pop band Bel Arjona And The Loonatics (4.30pm), following a set which will see Tiny Dancer (Hold Me Closer) artist Ironik perform with singer Cam Johnston (3.45pm).

Dirty Lions (3pm) will rock the stage after Manchester pop band LoudKiddz (2.15pm) and singer-songwriter Luna Wilson (1.30pm).

BOM BOM singers Sam And The Womp shot to the top of the UK chart with their infectious, trumpet-led debut single in 2012.

On Saturday, the band, fronted by London-born trumpeter Sam Ritchie and Dutch singer and songwriter Bloem de Ligny, who considers herself a Londoner, will perform at Cazfest.

The Observer talked to Sam, the source of that irresistibly limb-livening trumpet riff, ahead of the Stortford festival.

Q: YOUR DEBUT SINGLE BOM BOM SHOT TO THE TOP OF THE CHARTS, WAS USED ON TV ADVERTS AND PLAYED ENDLESSLY ON THE RADIO. WHAT WAS IT LIKE TO HAVE SUCH SUDDEN SUCCESS?

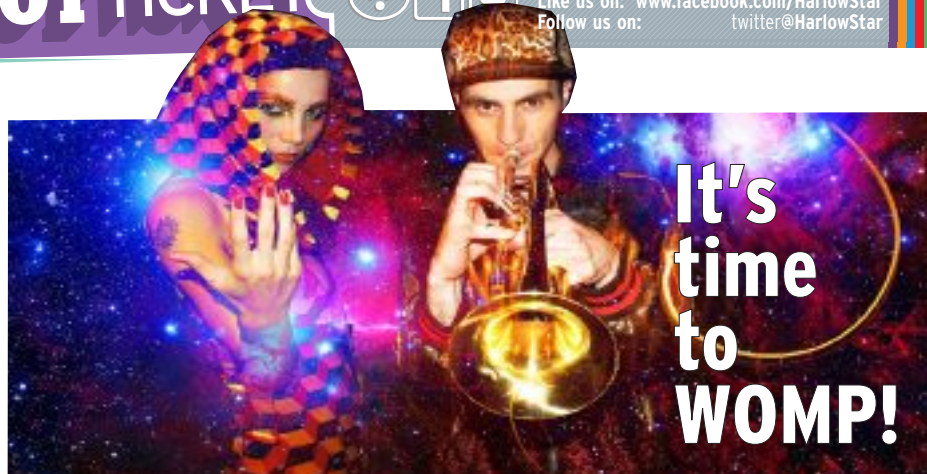

A: The success came as a massive surprise and was an amazing experience. We had a chance to play some amazing shows – it was crazy! Bom Bom was played everywhere.

Q: HOW DID BOM BOM COME ABOUT?

A: Improvising trumpet lines over a four-to-the-floor groove was the starting point. I was inspired by Balkan brass and funky New Orleans bands at the time and wanted to try mixing it with western grooves. It was an instrumental that we performed live for a few years and Bloem improvised some lyrics at gigs. On her first visit to the studio we recorded her rap and that was that...history was made!

Q: WHERE DOES YOUR SIGNATURE MIX OF BALKAN MUSIC WITH ELECTRONICA AND BRASS COME FROM?

A: The Balkan beats scene is small but present in the UK. We have been huge fans of Balkan brass music since seeing Koccani Orkestar at Big Chill Festival a while ago. This music is really energetic and makes you dance and is only now being accepted into the pop world.

Q: HOW WOULD YOU BEST DESCRIBE YOUR SOUND?

We have a passion for merging different genres together. Pumped up with fat bass and beats and fused with a bit of funk or ska, we try to create an alternative brass-driven dance sound. It is most fun with the live band.

Q: HOW DID YOU FORM AS A GROUP?

A: Bloem first met me on my birthday at a gig near London Bridge. We ended up jamming together at the after party and she ended up falling asleep on my kitchen floor! We then met at various underground gigs and jammed at some great parties before finalising on the name.

Q: CAN YOU DESCRIBE YOUR LATEST SINGLE ZEPPELIN?

A: Zeppelin came about in a very different way, but the lyrics hark from the same place. It's a quirky ska song that Bloem wrote and is produced by myself and Raz Olsher, our bass player. We have performed it with the band for a number of years. It is very bouncy and always gets a great response from the crowd. It was time to release it to the world!

Q: WHAT ARE YOU CURRENTLY WORKING TOWARDS?

Recently, we have teamed up with my cousin and producer Daniel Griffiths and we are focussing on producing new songs for the band together. Our latest song is being mixed as we speak... we think it's a cracker! We are looking forward to playing Cazfest and Lovebox the week after. We are currently organising a UK tour for after the summer festivals... watch this space.

Q: WHAT IS A "WOMPING" AND HOW SHOULD ONE "WOMP"?

A: It is the sound that the bass makes... the womp dwells in the space between the bass and your face. We have developed a ridiculous dance that should be experienced rather than explained!

Q: WHAT SHOULD CAZFEST FESTIVAL GOERS EXPECT FROM THE SHOW?

A: To Womp! We come with a full-on live sound with no backing track, a sick drummer, bass player and blasting horn section. We aim to get the crowd going.

Interview by Tom Durham

Power of three Stooshe girls

CAZFEST act Stooshe are dressed up and ready to head out to the Leicester Square premiere of Magic Mike XXL when the Star calls.

"It's got Channing Tatum in it, what more could you want?" is the answer, obviously, to the question as to why they're going.

The London girl band's excitement for the evening reminds you that despite their already eventful musical journey, Stooshe – with one member, Courtney Rumbold, aged just 22 – is still young.

Courtney, who will celebrate her 23rd birthday on July 11 at Cazfest, is joined by Alexandra Buggs and Karis Anderson, both 25, to complete the trio – who formed when talent scouts picked them from out from auditions in Topshop stores in 2010.

The group signed to Warner Music in August 2011, released their first single Betty Woz Gone soon after and quickly earned a nomination for BBC's Sound of 2012 poll.

Their debut collaborative single Love Me, featuring rapper Travie McCoy, reached number five in the UK. Their first album London With The Lights On hit number eight in the UK charts in 2013.

Around two years after first signing, they split with their record label.

Now working on their second album independently, on a set of tracks which the girls say will tell their side of the story, Stooshe say they feel a new sense of freedom in their songwriting.

Speaking about their collective journey,

Courtney said: "We were put in the deep end when we were young teens and music has changed, definitely. We have grown."

They are excited to be taking to Cazfest's Sworder's Field stage with a mix of new and old songs.

"We love performing at festivals. We are grateful to be coming and we will be playing a few new covers which no one has really heard before, along with a lot of the old stuff," said Alexandra.

They have a single ready for release and an album to come, but they're keeping details of collaborations and songs under wraps.

Karis said: "The new music is definitely a progressed sound compared to the first album. It's a bit more R&B and funk influenced."

LIFESTYLE

So STOOL for cats

NOW the weather has picked up and it's nice to enjoy the garden in the evening, there are some visitors who are rather unwelcome.

Your neighbour's cat might be lovely...but you could do without the fragrant 'gifts' that may be left on your flowerbeds.

So what are the best (and safest) deterrents?

■ One gardener reckons that the only way to stop neighbours' cats wandering in is to have your own cat (preferably a tom), as this generally keeps other animals out of your garden

■ Alternatively, try to stop them getting in. Block your boundary gaps with prickly plants or prunings such as holly. Fit wire or string 10-15cm above the top of fences to make it difficult for cats to balance on them

■ Another solution is an old gamekeeper's trick. Place half-full plastic bottles in borders, as the light reflection off the bottle is supposed to deter animals

■ Unwanted CDs can provide a shining light deterrent when threaded on twine with knots in-between to keep them apart. String these across flowerbeds or hang from trees and the light reflection should deter cats, but maybe not forever

■ Don't leave exposed soil in borders. Instead, mulch with stone chipping or pebbles, or keep the soil well mulched with a moisture-retaining material such as manure, as wet ground is not particularly attractive to them. Also, invest in a good selection of ground cover plants to deter cats from venturing into your border

■ Some gardeners swear by putting a couple of drops of decongestant Olbas oil onto used teabags and then scattering them around the area that the cats have chosen to use as a litter tray

■ If they're scratching your tree trunks, wrap tree guards or fine chicken wire around the base of them

PETS CORNER

THE Pet Travel Scheme (PETS) has revolutionised the lives of pet owners who can now take their much-loved four-footed friends abroad on holiday.

There is, however, a list of strict regulations, including vaccinations and certifications, as well as the requirement to obtain a pet passport. These regulations are regularly reviewed and this website www.gov.uk/pet-travel-information-for-pet-owners will provide the very latest information.

Pets Corner's head of training, Lucy Ross, would like to alert pet owners to the many factors that should be considered when taking a pet abroad. Here are her suggested dos and don'ts:

Do:

■ Consider the stress that travelling may cause your pet; changes in routine and unfamiliar environments can be very upsetting. They may be happier left at home with someone you trust

■ Check the specific rules and regulations for animal travel from your airline, rail or ferry company

■ Give them plenty of reassurance, as well as time to get used to their new surroundings.

■ Ensure your pet's vaccines and veterinary documents are up to date

Don't:

■ Overfeed your pet before travel; light meals are preferable and full stomachs best avoided

■ Forget to keep a supply of their regular food with you for the journey, especially if you are travelling at their usual feeding time

■ Ignore the regulations — they are there for everyone's wellbeing and failure to meet them could result in you having to abandon your journey

Lucy added: "It can be very rewarding to take your pet on holiday, but only if it's in their best interests. We advise everyone to think carefully before planning a holiday with their pet."

Entry £1.00 Adults

Fun for ALL the family, kids young and old!
Parents chill with a Bar and Food.

Come and give Rugby a "TRY" for free!

Harlow Rugby Club Mini Section

Mini Rugby is a series of simplified versions of rugby to introduce kids to the game.

Do I need to sign up in advance?

Please email pauloweneynon@gmail.com including your Child's Name, Date of Birth, School Year, Address and any medical conditions.

How do we coach mini rugby at Harlow?

It's about a kids centric approach so we put what they want at the centre of what we do. We ask them lots of questions, set them challenges and spend more time working in small groups on focused skills. What children learn from Rugby Union is Teamwork, Respect, Enjoyment, Discipline and Sportsmanship.

What do my kids need to bring?

Just turn up with a drink for your child and make sure they have trainers or football boots, shorts and a shirt.

How much does it cost?

This is a one off session just for fun so it is free!

Can I leave my child with you?

Sorry no, not for this session, please stay and watch the session this time.

Who can I speak to?

YOUR STARS WITH

ARIES MARCH 21 - APRIL 20

Solutions and problems you thought you could not sort out are actually within your power to control. All you have to do is get back in the driving seat Aries. News from someone from your past gives you reason to save up and plan for an exciting event. Take your time with paperwork as nothing is what it at first seems and it may be worth paying for a professional opinion. Ring now for answers.

0911 8532 348 65p per minute

TAURUS APRIL 21 - MAY 21

The temptation to tell tales on others will be strong now, but could turn out to be your downfall if you are not careful my friend. Time spent going over paperwork and looking for missing figures and facts can help you save both money and reputation. Look out for a new flirtation which may come with a bigger commitment that you'd hoped for. Ring now for a better understanding of life.

0911 8532 349 65p per minute

GEMINI MAY 22 - JUNE 21

The problem with the decisions you now have to make is that they affect not just you, but those around you as well and you may be left feeling out of control and incapable of knowing what the right thing to do is. Follow your original game plan Gemini. It's what will lead you to the success I know you seek. Ring now to find out what Leos have to do with your fate this coming month.

0911 8532 350 65p per minute

CANCER JUNE 22 - JULY 22

Start to show some faith in the relationships in your life or you are going to watch them fall because you said they would. Self belief is half your battle my friend. New ways to deal with a delicate financial problem can be found by going over old paperwork and reading in between the lines. You may even have to pay to do so. Ring so I can help you make this month all you'd dreamt and more.

0911 8532 351 65p per minute

LEO JULY 23 - AUGUST 23

Try not to be difficult with your close ones who have been going out of their way to try to understand your recent words and actions. I know you need to blow off some steam, but I also know you need to find some middle ground. You can do so by explaining how you really feel and by taking down some of those barriers you've put up. Ring now to delve deeper into your stars.

0911 8532 352 65p per minute

VIRGO AUGUST 24 - SEPTEMBER 22

You start to build up more trust in this week's problems and don't let things spiral out of control. You're bigger and better than that Libra and it's time to put many of those great lessons you've learnt to good use in the next three months. Cancelled travel plans turn out to be a blessing in disguise. Ring now to hear why I'm so sure it's not worth going back to the past.

0911 8532 354 65p per minute

SCORPIO OCTOBER 24 - NOVEMBER 21

The Moon makes this a really emotional weekend, where you could well find yourself asking for things you don't really want. Stop and sleep on any important decisions Scorpio, so that you don't end up backing yourself into a corner you can't get out of. New friends make for a better social life which is more suited to who you really are. Ring now to hear what Mars is planning in your honour.

0911 8532 355 65p per minute

SAGITTARIUS NOVEMBER 22 - DECEMBER 20

You're missing someone, which could see you putting your sign's impulsive traits to good use as you make plans to go out of your way to be in their company. You've had to do a lot of growing up recently my friend and in the process you've learnt so much more about yourself. You now know to speak up and stand up for what and who you want. Ring now to hear what a positive affect this will have.

0911 8532 356 65p per minute

CAPRICORN DECEMBER 21 - JANUARY 20

Past and present mix well for you this week and you finally start to feel as if life is in your control rather than out of it. You mix with new faces, but not all of them are good influences, so just make sure you know what standards you want to keep, as you may have to make some risky decisions at very short notice. Ring now to hear how your element of earth can be your fortune this July.

0911 8532 357 65p per minute

AQUARIUS JANUARY 21 - FEBRUARY 19

There is a lot of talk but not a lot of action happening and I can see just how frustrating this must be for a sign such as you. Try not to judge others for what they do, but be your own judge as to what your standards should be. It's the key to you feeling back in control of your life Aquarius. Wear brown for luck in family confrontations. Ring now so I can tell you more about your future.

0911 8532 358 65p per minute

PISCES FEBRUARY 20 - MARCH 20

Don't say things you don't mean just for effect. It's not going to earn you any supporters and you know you're only trying to gain attention from the person who's been distant with you lately. New flirtations loom for many of you Pisceans but don't play with the emotions of those you don't care for, or you could end up breaking someone's heart. Ring now to hear who your perfect match is.

OBJECTS OF DESIRE >with DONNA PRIOR

Raise a glass... or two!

Every week we pick out a different object or theme and showcase some of the best items around it. This week we've been enjoying the sunshine and tempted to have a tipple - so our thoughts turned to wine.

IS this something for the bucket list? This elegant modern wine cooler is brimming with style and will soon be brimming with your favourite white wine. This shiny tabletop metal ice bucket has a gently dipped and curved lip allowing bottles to rest neatly at either end while chilling. £129 from www.artisanti.com

THIS cool wine holder would appear to defy the laws of physics - but is a clever optical illusion created by welded chain links that cleverly counter balance the weight of a wine bottle. £19.95 from www.red5.co.uk

PICTURE yourself at a brilliant bash drinking cocktails, champagne and wine... the only downside being that the table is littered with unsightly corks! Well, someone had a 'corker' of an i-deer and realised that corks could be used as party entertainment. £5.95 from www.prezzybox.com

CHILL your drinks - and enjoy some perfect mood lighting at the same time with this light-up ice bucket jug. Designed to take a standard bottle of wine, or several beer bottles or cans, this funky ice bucket takes 4 x AA batteries, and because it's lit by LEDs, it will glow all night. £14.95 from www.glow.co.uk

THIS small but perfectly designed rack is deceptive - at 58cm it can hold up to 36 bottles. £315. www.sableandox.co.uk

THESE charming charms each have a butterfly in different colours on them - and the ring slips easily over the stem of your glass to make sure you know which one is yours. £7.99 from www.retreat-home.com

If you think you can't hold a candle to your favourite wine, you may enjoy this - a candle for all the Prosecco lovers out there. These candles have a scent that's lively and fruity with a subtle oak background. £19.99 from www.swankymaison.com

Open plan living in a new home

THIS fab and funky four-bedroom Newhall home is still being built – and you could be its first owner: Placing as much importance on on living outdoors as indoors, the open plan downstairs focuses on the kitchen and provides a great sense of light and space.

Upstairs, there are four bedrooms and two bathrooms in the new property at Braggowens Ley in Newhall, which will be ready at the end of the month.

The property – which is on the market for £399,995 – will be finished to a high standard throughout and has off-street parking, private rear gardens and open views to the front.

Viewing is strictly by appointment, arranged via Howick & Brooker, 1 High Street, Old Harlow. Tel: (01279) 418888.

'...He's Back!...'

The trial and tribulations of the property market, in short, is doing my head in!

The easiest tasks and actions seem to cause so much aggravation, why do people turn into monsters when it comes to buying or selling a home?

It is so daft at times, try this one for instance, after viewing the house twice and agreeing to buy, this London based gentleman rang us up on Tuesday to ask which way the front door faced as it was relevant as to the date and day he completes his purchase!

Something to do with the size or direction of the moon in early July!

Some choice words were exchanged, I can assure you.

Searches are another issue, from taking a couple of weeks just a few years ago, now it's about five! And it's causing so many difficulties with peoples plans to move and the autumn school term comes into play (September for the new school). Big issue, when someone is moving from "up north" where in some towns the search takes just a couple of weeks, they just don't understand why so long here in Harlow?

That is a question we are all asking.

Happy days.

Scrap Cars

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle.
That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD).
A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

(A414 (northbound and southbound), Harlow) (Temporary 30mph Speed Limit) Order 2015

Further to a notice under Section 14(2) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984 which commenced on 6 July 2015.

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily introduce a 30mph speed limit on both the northbound and southbound carriageways of the A414 in the District of Harlow, from its junction with Church Langley Way, to its junction with Edinburgh Way.

The existing 40mph speed limit on the A414 from its junction with Church Langley Way, north for a distance of approximately 120 metres as detailed in "The Essex County Council (A414 London Road & London Road, North Weald Bassett, Districts of Epping & Harlow) (40mph Speed Limit) Order 2010" is hereby temporarily suspended for the duration of the works.

The temporary speed restriction is scheduled to commence 11 July 2015 to 4 October 2015 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting, and is required for the safety of the public and workforce while embankment works are undertaken by Essex Highways.

The Order will come into effect on 11 July 2015 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 9 July 2015

Heartbreak for Town as they lose quarter-final thriller

COMPLETING a disappointing weekend, Harlow Town missed out on a place in the Shepherd Neame Essex League Cup semi-final when they lost by five runs in a thrilling encounter at Phoenix Park on Sunday.

In a strange quirk of the fixture list they played the same team they had lost to in the league on Saturday, Fives & Heronians.

Fives won the toss and batted first but had slipped to 51-4 early on.

However, Jake Poulter and Ben

Britton put on 95 in quick time. Ashley Alderson (3-14) put the tie back in the balance as Fives were dismissed for 205.

Town's reply started well through Ashley Alderson (49) and Baldwin (21), putting on 77 for the first wicket, but wickets fell regularly after that.

A determined Shaun Alderson gave Town late hope.

He needed a six off the last ball to win the game, but couldn't get the elevation and Town finished on 200.

Gladwin said: "We battled hard and can be proud of what we achieved against the top side in the league.

"A few minor adjustments and a bit more confidence from our batters and I'm sure we'll be able to turn these results into victories."

Fundraiser in Jack's memory

"We were also told that the reality was that Jack would not live beyond 30."

There is no cure for cystinosis, but Chapman's son Harry, now three, carries the bad gene and the corrective gene, like his parents.

A few years ago Harlow named one of their stands in honour of Jack.

Chapman said: "The club have been fantastic. It's quite emotional. Anyone who loses a child would agree that you never get over it, you learn to live with it."

"I have the bad gene and so does my wife. But we have the correctional gene. Jack did not and he took the bad gene from both of us. We were the one in four million couples."

Fans might be able to see new signing, former Colchester United winger Ryan Melaugh, as well as other re-signed players from last season's successful campaign including top scorer Alex Read, skipper Dave Cowley and left-back Layne Eadie play against Kings Lynn.

As well as the main match there will be a youth competition in the morning and in the evening a raffle and an auction to raise money for the Cystinosis Foundation UK.

Advanced tickets can be purchased now from The Harlow Arena.

Call Chapman or David Square on 01279 443196 to get involved.

You can donate to the cystinosis charity at www.justgiving.com/K-Ward3 Meanwhile, Harlow played their first pre-season friendly on Tuesday, defeating Newmarket Town 2-1 at home with goals from Fabian Simms and skipper Cowley.

Moore stunned to take scalp of Aussie captain

'I was so focused I didn't realise Clarke was on strike'

by Oliver Harbord

oliver.harbord@hertssexnews.co.uk

ESSEX'S Tom Moore admitted he didn't quite realise who he had got out first ball when he took the wicket of Michael Clarke.

The 23-year-old dismissed the Australian skipper for a golden duck in the first innings of the visitors' tour match at The County Ground.

But Moore was so focused on his bowling that he didn't quite appreciate his achievement until some time afterwards.

He said: "I try to just control the controllable, there is nothing you can do about who it is at the other end. Like when I got Clarke out, I hadn't really noticed until I looked up at the board and saw who it was."

"You just get in the zone, which is something I have been trying to work on."

"Although you do notice it when you are batting and you have Mitchell Starc and Josh Hazlewood at the other end."

"I have come away with a few bruised toes, but they just proved their talent."

Whirlwind

"I didn't think it could get much better than that, it has been such a whirlwind couple of days."

"Coming here against the Aussies and performing like we did against them has been brilliant."

"We put up a great fight and what happened over the couple of days was brilliant, there is a real buzz around the changing room."

Essex eventually lost by 169 runs as the Aussies prepare for the Ashes Series that begins today (Wednesday) in Cardiff.

However, with a bowling attack made up of Moore (Brentwood Cricket Club), Jamie Porter (Chingford CC), Matt Salisbury (Shenfield CC) and Aron Nijjar (Wanstead & Snarebrook CC), the seamer believes it was fantastic to show the strength of the Essex Cricket League.

He added: "We had quite a few young lads out there, but I thought the quality was very high and we were really pleased with the way that we bowled."

"The spirit was great and the youngsters were really hungry to get on the pitch and show what they can do. It was amazing for all of us."

"It was a great advert for Essex cricket and what the board are trying to do. It is fantastic that they are scouting through the clubs and having a look at what we can do."

"There is a really good core of a side that have played age cricket and Essex League cricket against each other."

"I have had a few injuries and niggles, so when there have been some spots open in the first team I haven't been able to take them."

"When we had the meeting the other day and all got the nod to go and have a bowl, I was so excited. We were just stoked to be a part of it."

Moore was also able to enjoy having his own fan club on day three of the contest.

"It was great to have the crowd behind me," he added.

"To be honest, it was a few Aussie guys and I had no idea who they were."

"They were making up songs and chanting my name, but I won't forget that for as long as I live."

TON UP: Hafiz Afzal scored a century

Afzal ton in vain as Hadleigh Thunder on

Shepherd Neame Essex League, Division One
Hadleigh & Thundersley . 332-5
Harlow 254
Harlow lost by 78 runs

A MAGNIFICENT century from Harlow opener Hafiz Afzal proved in vain as Harlow lost by 78 runs at home to Hadleigh & Thundersley on Saturday.

The visitors' formidable 332-5 proved beyond Harlow, who were asked to field first on a batsmen-friendly wicket in baking hot conditions.

An opening partnership of 119 between Paul Tibbenham and Austin Holmes had set Hadleigh up for the rest of the batting to come in with a licence to hit. After the latter was caught behind for 32 by the spin bowling of Afzal, Hadleigh accelerated their score, with captain Adam Soilleux coming to the crease and scoring 73 of 53 balls.

Luke Monger (3-42), promoted to the firsts, picked up three late wickets.

However, Tibbenham continued to bat through and scored a chanceless 113, until trying to up the run rate and being bowled by Lewis Aldred in the 45th over.

The wayward Harlow attack bowled 51 extras.

In reply, Afzal and teenager Alan Jones started well, before the latter was stumped for 17 off the bowling of David Williams.

Afzal was joined by skipper Rehman Ahmed and together they put on 67 before the skipper was given caught behind for 23.

Afzal went on to score 116 but ran out of partners.

Harlow were eventually bowled out for 254 in 47 overs.

Harlow's second team continue to climb the table.

They recorded a comfortable eight-wicket victory over strugglers West Essex.

Callum Sykes (3-17), Amir Farooq (3-27) and Mitch Howarde (3-17) all claimed three wickets as West Essex were bowled out for a mediocre 82.

Of the nine wickets caught, wicket-keeper Ant Webb claimed five to complete a remarkable game behind the stumps.

Skipper Andre Riddell (35no) steered Harlow to victory (84-2).

The third team suffered their first defeat of the season and their first at home since 2013.

Wanstead & Snarebrook declared on 326-3, before dismissing Harlow for 152.

The Harlow fourths (170) also suffered their first loss of the season, going down by six wickets to leaders Harold Wood (174-4).

For the fifts, Lloyd Sykes hit 102 but they lost by 19 runs against Woodford Wells fifts.

Fives alive to traffic trouble

HARLOW Town went down to high-flying Fives & Heronians in Division Two of the Shepherd Neame Essex League on Saturday.

Upon winning the toss Gladwin asked Fives to bat first, unaware that three of his players were stuck in traffic, resulting in Town taking to the field with only eight players.

Fives took full advantage, piling on 100 in the first ten overs.

Daniel Baldwin, opening the bowling for the first team for the first time, bowled well picking up three late wickets as Fives posted 282-9.

In reply, Ashley Alderson (49), Shiraz Ali (48) and Ramya Upadhyay contributed well but the latter was stranded on 67 as Town were 237 all out, losing by 45 runs.

Town's seconds (53) lost by ten wickets against Harold Wood seconds (57-0).

The thirds (85-9) were defeated by Hornchurch fourths (86-2).

Completing a miserable weekend, the Town fourths (136-9) went down by five wickets against Hadleigh & Thundersley fourths (138-5).

Runners just miss out on promotion

HARLOW Running Club narrowly missed out on promotion as the Herts & Essex Midweek Road Race League reached its conclusion.

The Mark Hall Sportscentre-based club were just one point adrift of Stevenage club Fairlands Valley Spartans in Division Two, but were unable to bridge this short gap in the final race of the season, an undulating 10km course at Hitchin.

Nine running clubs competed in total.

The Harlow women's team finished fourth at Hitchin, the men's team came home fifth and overall Harlow were fourth.

This left the Harlow women in a commendable second place overall, the men's team in fourth and overall Harlow remained in third.

Orion Harriers (Chingford) won the division and were promoted along with Spartans.

Harlow's veteran teams did better, the women winning their race and the men in second.

First woman to finish was Sharon Wright, in fifth place out of 73 finishers in 45min 36sec.

She was followed home by Paula Reynolds (12th in 46:57), Sandi Rust (16th in a personal best time for the distance of 47:31) and Faith Jackson-Lee (25th in 50:38).

In the men's race, Jamie Jephcott was 25th out of 149 finishers in a superb 39:35.

He was followed by Pete Brewin (27th in 40:02), Andy Terrell (31st in 40:35) and Adrian Fell (35th in 41:21).

Personal bests

There were personal bests (PBs) for Justin Patten (59th in 44:49), Darren Tiley (65th in 45:06) and John Tennant (68th and third veteran 60 in 45:18).

Meanwhile at the Brentwood & Essex 10K Championships, Harlow collected two Essex Championship medals.

Dionne Jones was 164th out of 414 and claimed bronze in the women's veteran 45 category in 44:58.

Paulene Galoppi was 371st and claimed a silver medal in the women's vet 65 section (60:58 PB).

Jamie Jephcott was 63rd (38:48) and he was followed by son Daniel (90th in 40:38).

Other results were: John Tennant (151st in 44:31); Sandi Rust (176th in 45:39 PB); Colin Moody (187th in 46:33); Robin Lozeau (193rd in 47:14 PB); Martin McColgan (203rd in 48:11); Debbie Barry (272nd in 52:01); Debbie Smith (286th in 52:43); Karen Moir (288th in 52:50); and Alan Wellbelove (295th in 53:15).

At the multi-terrain Bishop's Stortford ten-mile race, Harlow won the men's team prize.

Jared Bethell finished in an excellent second out of 190 finishers in 1hr 02min 00sec.

Other Midweek League results:- women: 37th Debbie Barry 52:13; 41st Debbie Smith 53:17; 50th Wendy Spring 56:01; 61st Alison Bull 59:44; 67th Georgina Spenceley 63:57. Kingsmoor reigns as kids get a grip on judo contest

Judo

A SUCCESSFUL 2015 Inter-Schools Judo Championships was held at Harlow's Kingsmoor Academy.

Members and coaches at Harlow Judo Club gave up their time to assist at the event.

A total of 59 children who represented 12 schools in Harlow, took part.

The competition was won by Kingsmoor, with a total of 78 points.

Water Lane (24 points) were second and Little Parndon (19 points) came third.

Harlow Judo Club's senior coach, Mick Ellis said: "I'm always amazed at the standard of some of the school players."

He had invited some less experienced Harlow Judo Club players to represent their own schools, however, some of them were beaten by school players.

"A fantastic day was had by all who attended," he added.

The schools themselves paid for their pupils to enter as there was no funding for this competition.

The entry fees went towards paying for trophies, which were presented to the children who participated at the event.

Harlow Judo Club member Adam Pope 19, who has previously represented Great Britain in the Special Needs squad, has passed his BJA Level One Coaching Course.

As a result of attaining this level, Pope, with assistance from Ellis, will now be looking to commence a judo class specifically for people with special needs.

The club is based at Foldcroft in Harlow.

For more information about special needs classes contact Gill Ellis via www.harlowjudoclub.com or at gillianellis48@yahoo.co.uk or 07976 955905.

Cherished memories for England Lioness

Proud Stoney returns home with World Cup bronze

by Alan Scott

alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

CASEY STONEY returned to her Old Harlow home this week after surely one of the greatest months of her life, helping the England Lionesses to third place at the World Cup in Canada.

The Arsenal Ladies defender, the most experienced player in the squad with 120 caps, made two appearances in the finals.

It meant she returned home proudly walking through the terminal at Heathrow with her most prized possessions – her eight-month-old twins and her brand new World Cup bronze medal.

Although she was an unused substitute in Saturday's third-place play-off 1-0 win against Germany, the 32-year-old played a pivotal part using all her years of tournament nous to keep the spirits of the England squad strong, particularly after the heartbreaking 2-1 semi-final defeat to Japan.

Galvanised

This late setback in a game England had largely dominated could not overshadow an incredible tournament, which has galvanised the women's game in this country.

It was the furthest an England women's team had ever progressed to in a World Cup Finals.

Stoney provided England Lionesses' fans with regular updates via her prolific tweeting during the tournament.

Her latest ones encapsulated her joy at being part of such a phenomenal success.

She tweeted: "Thank you to my @england team mates for the memories that will last a life time #Lionesses #FIFAWWC

"Thanks Canada its [sic] been amazing but now I cannot wait to see my family #Hometime

"This is for my Teddy, Tilly and

PRIZED POSSESSIONS: Casey Stoney with her twins and her bronze medal, after returning from the Women's World Cup Finals

@MegsHarris7 and my mum, dad and brother. I love you all thanks for your support."

Stoney also had a message of support for England team-mate Laura Bassett, whose own goal right at the end of the semi-final prevented the Lionesses from progressing to the final.

She tweeted: "If anyone did not deserve that today it was @laurabassett6 she is the most honest, hard working, professional who is an amazing team mate!!

"Not the result we deserved tonight and its [sic] absolutely heart breaking but I have never been prouder of this team and these players #lionesses."

Stoney might now consider whether she will continue her England career beyond 2015 and will look at playing at the European Championships in 2017, when she will be 34.

England, having finished as the top European side after beating former world champions Germany for the first time in 20 attempts over a 31-year period, will surely be favourites.

They have made huge strides with manager Mark Sampson, who took over after Hope Powell's exit.

In an interview published on the FA website, Stoney added: "We have 23 fantastic players here. We are stronger than we have ever been."

Sports Reporter ALAN SCOTT looks back at the life of former manager Dave Edwards

Wembley hero refused to let Harlow Town die

Late boss' greatest feat rebuilding cash-crippled club

FROM masterminding Stansted's FA Vase victory at Wembley in 1984 to leading Harlow Town through the brightest – and darkest – periods in its history, Dave Edwards' career in football management reads like the pages of a Dick Francis thriller.

The funeral of the stalwart football manager was held yesterday (Wednesday) after a lengthy battle against Alzheimer's.

His name will forever be Harlow Town FC, known as the Owls back then.

He was at the helm when the money ran out in the early 1990s and Harlow were kicked out of the Isthmian League.

Rather than leave Harlow in the mire though he searched desperately to attract new funding.

He was the driving force behind bringing in new owners, as Giorgio Di Benedetto and Essex builder John Taylor, took over in June 1993 to rescue the financially-crippled club.

They paid Harlow's debts, including £7500 which was owed to the Isthmian League, plus fines to the FA.

Demoted

The Isthmian League agreed at its annual meeting to grant Harlow permission to rejoin but the club were demoted and forced to drop down two divisions.

They were relegated in the 1993-94 season in the Isthmian League Division Three.

This was after a whole season without football at the old Sport-centre ground in Hammarskjöld Road.

Born in Willesden in 1947, Edwards moved to Harlow with his family as a 14-year-old.

He enjoyed a successful playing career, playing more than 150 games for Harlow.

He enjoyed his most successful period as a player at the Sport-centre in the late 1970s when he won Player of the Year and Supporters' Player of the Year awards in consecutive seasons.

He was a member of the Berger Isthmian League Division One title-winning side (1978-79) when the club, arguably the Owls' greatest ever team, also lifted the Essex Senior Cup.

This is to date the club's only success in this competition.

That season Harlow only lost seven games in all competitions – amazingly Wokingham Town inflicted three of those defeats, the league double and a league cup win.

Edwards was at the heart of a defence that conceded just 32 goals in 42 league games.

Ironically he left Harlow at the age of 32, just a season before the club enjoyed its most famous moment, knocking Gary Lineker's Leicester City out of the FA Cup in 1980.

Edwards also had playing spells at Bishop's Stortford, Stansted and Saffron Walden.

Having taken up his first managerial post at Stansted, then struggling in the Essex Senior League,

he appointed his friend Dave Hoddle as assistant.

The historic final at Wembley, the greatest chapter in the Airportmen's history, saw Edwards' men defeat Stamford 3-2 with two goals from hitman John Reading.

His success prompted new Harlow Town co-owner Alan Howick to appoint Edwards as Harlow manager to replace Gwyn Walters who had resigned.

Edwards' spell over almost ten years and nearly 480 matches, certainly was a rollercoaster ride.

Graeme Auger was at Harlow for much of this time, enjoying spells as club secretary and even chief executive.

Auger, who has also been secretary at Bishop's Stortford FC and still compiles reports for the Blues' website, club programme and the Herts & Essex Observer, recalls fondly his time with Edwards.

Auger said: "I would say Dave was a legend as he stuck with the club and did a lot of work."

"It was a long period of time in football terms. He helped the club to revive. He did a lot of work behind the scenes during that period."

"Dave had a book of contacts and player names, that's where he was so strong."

Edwards' time at Harlow started badly. Brought in to stop the rot, he could not prevent the Owls sliding towards the relegation trapdoor.

They were relegated in 1984-85 season from the Servovarm Isthmian Premier Division.

The next season they went down from the Vauxhall Opel (Isthmian) Division One.

The only way was up. Having narrowly missed out on promotion in the 1987-88 campaign, Harlow went up the next season in style, winning the title with striker Jeff Wood scoring a club record 44 goals.

Harlow were eighth in the Vauxhall Division One in 1989-90, also winning the East Anglian Cup, but then the money troubles began as an ambitious scheme to move to what is now the Harlow Greyhound Stadium in Pinacles ultimately bit the dust.

This was after low's owners Alan Howick and Steve

With huge debts and problems over the state of the run-down Sport-centre ground, contract players including midfielder Steve Emmanuel went to the FA demanding payment of monies owed to them by the club.

This culminated in Harlow being thrown out of the Isthmian League after the injury-hit 1991-92 campaign.

Despite this, Edwards miraculously still guided Harlow to the FA Cup first round, battling against the odds to defeat non-league giants Kings Lynn and Gravesend & Northfleet along the way.

This secured a tie against Peterborough United who were then in the third tier of the Football League. This was lost 7-0.

After being kicked out of the league, Edwards worked tirelessly to bring new financiers on board.

"He was very much instrumental in trying to get the club restarted," explained Auger.

"He even approached a family in Harlow to get the club reinstated [into the Isthmian League]."

With Di Benedetto and Taylor on board, Edwards brought in Trevor Harvey as his assistant for the 1993-94 season.

Harvey was manager of Stortford when they won the FA Trophy at Wembley in 1981, defeating Sutton United in the final.

Harlow just missed out on promotion in the 1993-94 campaign, finishing fourth in the Diadora (Isthmian) Division Three.

But Edwards clashed with Di Benedetto and left at the end of the season, taking on a new challenge at Saffron Walden.

It was part of a mass exodus with Harvey and even Auger departing, with the latter switching back to Stortford.

Ex-Gunners favourite Radford then appointed Edwards as his number two for the 1995-96 campaign.

Edwards replaced Radford when he became general manager, bringing in ex-Harlow favourite Ray Wickenden as his assistant, along with his loyal physio Micky Stephens, who had been with him since his early managerial days.

By this time several players had switched from Harlow to Stortford, including the likes of striker Martin St Hilaire and Stewart Ingielewicz.

Edwards was sacked early on in the 1997-98 season.

He had brief managerial spells at Bromley and Ware, but nothing could eclipse his hey-day at Stansted and Harlow in the 1980s.

THE GAFFER: Dave Edwards enjoys a brew in the dressing room

Son cherishes memory of FA Vase glory

SITTING in the dug out at Wembley as his father steered little Stansted to the greatest moment in their history, will live long in the memory of Dave Edwards' son Andy.

Andy was just 13 when he watched the Airportmen defeat Stamford in the FA Vase final.

Edwards died at the age of 67 a fortnight ago.

His son recalls watching the epic final, which Stansted won 3-2 and ignited a managerial career which spanned three decades.

Andy said: "I was 13 when Stansted reached the Wembley final and had travelled with the team home and away throughout the previous rounds."

"I was extremely proud of him. I was basically my dad's shadow every match day while he was at Stansted and can remember all the conversations he had with Dave Hoddle, his assistant at Stansted [and the uncle of Spurs legend Glenn Hoddle], travelling to and from matches in the car regarding difficult team selections etc, particularly leading up to and including the Wembley final."

"He cared about the players as people also and that's why I think he got the best out of them and why they achieved so much as a team unit."

Scouting mission

Edwards, who lived in Elmbridge in Old Harlow, took over at Harlow in 1985.

Edwards brought with him several players from Stansted.

These included skipper and centre-half Barry Simpson and his defensive partner Steve Cooper.

Attacking player Ray Holt, midfielder Gabby Callinan and two-goal Wembley hero John Reading, plus striker Jamie Reeves, also went.

Harlow Town vice-president Graeme Auger, then club secretary, recalled joining Edwards and then chairman Alan Howick on a scouting mission to see FA Cup opponents Bury Town in the late 1980s.

Auger said: "We had fish and chips after. I was living in Walthamstow and they knew I needed to get back to catch the last train from Harlow," he said.

"It was quite hair-raising, the speed we were going at down the A11."

Auger added: "I found him terrific to get on with and a football man through and through. I have not got a bad word to say about him."

"I feel privileged and proud to have known Dave."

'NICK'S NO BAD BOY - HE'S A STAR'

ANGER MANAGEMENT: Kyrgios loses his temper during the Wimbledon fourth round match against Richard Gasquet (PA). (Below), John Morris and Kyrgios

Morris voices support for prodigy after Wimbledon row

THE Harlow-based tennis coach and manager of Wimbledon firebrand Nick Kyrgios has backed his prodigy to bounce back from his SW19 drama this week - and is adamant the young Australian WILL win a Grand Slam event in the future.

The 20-year-old, from Canberra, has been managed by John Morris for nearly two years.

Morris, of Ram Gorse, was also forced to step in and coach the youngster for Wimbledon after he was left coachless.

Morris, 33, who watched Kyrgios lose in four sets in the fourth round against Richard Gasquet on Monday, hailed Kyrgios as a future star and compared him to a top NBA player, the type of which has not been seen in tennis since the days of Andre Agassi in his pomp.

Morris said: "There's a lot of interest in him. They are saying he's the bad boy of tennis but the truth is there's massive demand for him all over the world.

"He has had double the media requests of [Roger] Federer.

"He is very different to what we have had in the last 15 or 20 years. He's like an NBA star; he's a bit of a showman, and we have not had that since Agassi.

"He's not a bad guy, he's a really good person. Don't forget that he's young. He is only 20. He has been put in the spotlight. I'm not making excuses for him. It's not as though what he has done is out of the ordinary."

Kyrgios, who lost 7-5, 6-1, 6-7, 7-6 to Gasquet, was accused of not trying at one point in a game.

He has been repeatedly hit with violations for uttering obscenities this tournament, but Morris knows the talented player will learn from these "high-pressure" situations.

"It's just frustration. He's in a high pressure situation and you are going to make decisions. He's now gone back to Australia. He has had a decent year. Without a doubt he is going to win a Slam," said Morris.

Morris felt Kyrgios, who lost to Andy Murray in the Australian Open quarter-finals in January, was in a great position to go beyond the quarter-final spot he secured at Wimbledon last year.

But as the game progressed and key decisions went against him, he unravelled.

His opponent Gasquet was also criticised for smashing his racket.

Morris added: "He [Kyrgios] had a dodgy start. There was a bit of pressure on him and that was it. But he will come back."

Morris is also coach of British No.2 Aljaz Bedene, who enjoyed his best Wimbledon to date before bowing out at the second-round stage.

SO SAD: Jack Chapman died at 18 months

Fundraiser in Jack's memory

THE pain of losing a child will never leave a parent and for Harlow Town FC boss Danny Chapman it is a constant part of his thoughts.

Fans are being urged to attend a fundraiser at the club on Saturday to support the Cystinosis Foundation UK charity, culminating in the Joma Challenge Cup between the Hawks and Kings Lynn Town (3pm KO).

When Jack Chapman died at the age of 18 months in 2009 from the very rare genetic disorder cystinosis, it was part of a chain of events which defied incredible odds to claim his life.

The fact that both Chapman and his wife carried the defective gene and married and had a child together equate to odds of four million to one.

As the couple tried to comprehend their son's illness, a doctor even asked them if they were related, such was the extreme odds of two people with this gene being together.

They both, however, carried the corrective gene.

But little Jack was one of the 200,000 that do not carry the corrective gene.

Cystinosis occurs when the mechanism removing excess cysteine, an amino acid, breaks down.

It then prevents cells within the body working correctly.

For Jack, this initially led to kidney problems, before progressing to the liver, eyes and thyroid gland.

Chapman, 34, who is a former professional footballer with spells at Leyton Orient and Barnet, said: "We were told that in most cases it is the kidneys that develop problems first and that Jack would more than likely need a kidney transplant within the next few years.
